

Make college even more rewarding. Be an Apple Campus Rep.

Apple is looking for Campus Reps. It's a great opportunity to represent Apple, drive change on your campus, have some fun, and gain experience that will last a lifetime.

Being a Campus Rep takes an understanding of Apple technology as well as the ability to exceptionally represent Apple on your campus. It takes someone who can lead, inspire others, move fast, and get things done. You'll work with the Campus Rep Program and Account Team to tailor programs for your campus.

You're an ideal candidate if you're comfortable planning events and frequently presenting, already connected with organizations and groups on campus, and are excited to expand your network even further. This is more than just a college job — it's a chance to get your resume off to an incredible start and help Apple transform education.

What Campus Reps love about their job.

"The Campus Rep program not only allowed me to go beyond just learning about how to become a leader today, but it gave me the determination and drive to see my goals come to life."

—Esther Cho, U.C. San Diego

"Representing Apple at my university has been one of the most rewarding experiences of my college career. The opportunity to inspire students and faculty through workshops, activities, and individual trainings allowed me to develop professional skills and connections throughout campus. The Campus Rep program was truly an experience of a lifetime."

—Angel Demirev, University of Utah
